Step aboard the world's most luxurious ocean liner, the Mauretania, for a thrilling historical mystery that will keep you guessing until the very end.

It's 1914, and the Mauretania is on her maiden voyage from Southampton to New York City. Among the passengers is a wealthy American businessman, John Jacob Astor IV. Astor is a controversial figure, and his presence on the ship sets tongues wagging.

One night, Astor is found dead in his cabin, and it soon becomes clear that he was murdered. The ship's doctor, Dr. John Bradley, is called in to investigate, and he quickly realizes that he is dealing with a complex and baffling case.

As Bradley digs deeper, he uncovers a web of secrets and lies among the passengers and crew. There are jilted lovers, greedy fortune hunters, and spies from both sides of the impending war. Anyone could be the killer, and Bradley must use all of his skills to find the truth before the ship reaches New York.

Murder on the Mauretania is a thrilling historical mystery that will keep you on the edge of your seat from beginning to end. With its unforgettable characters and intricate plot, it's a must-read for fans of Agatha Christie and Sherlock Holmes.
